CHILDREN IN VERMONT SET TO LOSE CHILD CARE DUE TO CHILD CARE CLIFF

Beginning September 30, 2023, states will face a steep dropoff in federal child care investment. Without Congressional action, this cliff will have dire consequences. More than three million children are projected to lose access to child care nationwide. Seventy thousand child care programs are likely to close. This will have ripple effects for parents forced out of work or to cut their work hours, for businesses who will lose valuable employees or experience the impact of their employees' child care disruptions, and state economies that will lose tax revenue and jobs in the child care sector as a result.

Congress should act quickly to protect Vermont's children, families, and communities from the higher costs, reduced earnings, and productivity loss that will come with going over the child care cliff.

"The stabilization grants have allowed us to remain operational without needing to significantly increase parent-paytuition. When the grant funding ends, we will inevitably have to increase tuition, which will majorly impact our families and our accessibility for future families."

 MILLION

Vermont parents will lose $37 million in earnings as a result of being forced to cut work hours or leave the workforce.

As children and families feel these consequences, so will state economies. The loss of the federal funds will mean:

$33 MILLION $1.8 MILLION

less in employer productivity less in state income tax

817

 CHILD CARE JOBS

Finally, the child care sector has been far behind the rest of the economy in recovering jobs post-pandemic. We hear stories around the nation about child care classrooms having to close because there are not enough early educators. An additional 817 child care jobs are expected to be lost in Vermont, at a minimum.
